

Email Continuity Service

Insurance for your email.

Email has become such an important tool for all businesses. But regardless of the size of your shop, email outages caused by hardware failures, required system maintenance or even natural disasters can be catastrophic to both your well-being and your bottom line. Protect your livelihood with Email Continuity Service (ECS).

Not if, but when...

Unfortunately, outages occur. But ECS will ensure that your employees can access their email instantly through Outlook Web App (OWA), regardless of why the outage occurred and how long it lasts. So your business can continue to operate and you won't have to worry about any bounced messages.

Become proactive.

ECS is affordable for businesses of all sizes and very easy to use. Once configured, it requires no onsite hardware or software and is always instantly available. Add ECS to your business continuity plan today and take a proactive stance against future email outages.
